Just Published, in 12mo., price 5s., cloth,

Madrigals, Songs, and Sonnets.

By JOHN ARTHUR BLAIKIE and EDMUND WILLIAM GOSSE.

"All the poems are marked by great freshness and melody of thought and grace of expression, such as true poets only can attain."—Standard.

"The poems have a power of melodious versification that promises well."—Athenæum.

"The sonnets are very good, and those by Mr. Gosse rise at times to the serene seriousness and majestic contemplation of Wordsworth's muse."—Examiner.

"We do not see, indeed, why the first series of these short pieces should be named madrigals, or how these differ in kind from the lyrics, but they are equally musical, thoughtful, and refined in feeling. . . . Several also of the sonnets are perfect in harmony of thought and sound."—Illustrated London News.

"A volume in which the delicacy of perception, the accuracy and brilliancy of painting, and, above all, the truth and purity of feeling, form so happy a contrast to the showy and blatant efforts sometimes designated as poetry."—Western Times.

The Public School Latin

GRAMMAR, for the use of Schools, Colleges, and Private Students. To follow in use the Public School Latin Primer; and edited, with the same sanction, by the Editor of the Public School Latin Primer.

"The 'Public School Latin Primer,' intelligently taught, has proved a valuable instrument in education; and what it has done for the foundation the 'Public School Latin Grammar' will certainly do for the superstructure. We have no book like it; it is far more comprehensive than any of our ordinary school grammars, while it is yet neither so discursive nor so lengthy as those larger grammars which, while they were most valuable to the advanced scholar, were to all below him almost useless."—Educational Times.

"Baedeker is, as is well known, a singularly accurate and useful guide. . . . his information is comprehensive, minute, and carefully compiled."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"More convenient in form . . . than the red books of Albemarle Street, the red books of Coblenz are handier for the pocket or the knapsack, and are terser and more to the point in their style."—Spectator.

"We can cordially recommend Baedeker's Handbook, as at once convenient in size, and, at the same time, comprehensive and accurate in its details."—Daily Herald.

"Baedeker's Paris is an excellent book for nine out of every ten visitors to Paris. It tells all they want, and not more than they want. . . . Although it contains much letter-press, it will really go easily into the pocket. The maps are very ingeniously managed."—Reader.

"We should be inclined to prefer Baedeker, who judiciously notes briefly the more essential points, but has not room to distract you with too many particulars; and you are not tempted to waste time in reading when you should be looking. . . . The numerous maps and plans of cities with which the work is furnished are the best and most conveniently arranged we have ever seen in a guide-book."—Scotsman.

"For all who do not care for elaborate description, doubtful criticism and a profusion of historical reminiscences . . . there are no guide-books like Baedeker's. They are of convenient size, contain everything that the ordinary traveller wants to know, told accurately, sensibly, and succinctly."—Nation.
